“These Things We Do, That Others May Live”

Dear Friends of the Pararescue community,

It's very humbling, year over year, to look back see how many generous people we've been lucky enough to call friends, sponsors, and donors. The Pararescue Foundation and this community we serve are so very appreciative. Thank you so much! We're grateful for every person that supports the Foundation and trusts us to do the very best we can to support our heroes that risk everything, every day, as USAF Pararescuemen!

There's a tradition among PJs, to get the "green feet" tattoo after graduation. It's a storied rite of passage. The origin of the green feet symbol came from Vietnam, when the HH-3E helicopter, also known as the Jolly Green Giant, would land in the rice patties and grass fields, leaving huge impressions that looked like giant green footprints. This symbol, this impression, is a mark of the rescue community.

A Pararescueman travels the world performing rescue missions you may never hear about. The Green Feet symbol, that you may never witness, is one that represents saving lives in the most auspicious ways. Flawless execution is slated, no matter the obstacle or challenge from the circumstance or environment. That's the job. That's what it takes to live the Pararescue motto; "These Things I Do, That Others May Live."

The Pararescue Foundation delivers support for our PJ heroes with our Programs. From the purpose-built Retreat that supports their Health and Wellness, to immediate financial need when a Tragedy occurs. We're committed to them, and they need your continuous support.

You too can leave an impression, your mark, get tattooed so to speak, by supporting the Pararescue community anyway you can. Whether its volunteering at an event or donating to the cause, you can leave your mark.

From all of us, thank you for supporting the Pararescue Foundation's mission. Your gifts and monthly contributions are the lifeblood that enables us to serve this community and honor the sacrifice of those who live the Pararescue motto.

Leave your mark and get tattooed with PJF!

Get your PJF tattoo!

Metaphorically speaking you can get tattooed with PJF by either becoming a volunteer for an event or advocating for our mission and proudly support the services we provide our heroes. We're purpose built for the Pararescue community and grateful for your engagement. Your donation, whether time served at an event or a simple financial commitment, it helps drive our progress! With humble gratitude, we thank you!
